A WORTHY CANDIDATE.

The loyal voters of the Commonwealth ask no higher tribute to the worth and character of Judge Williams than the following neat compliment paid him by the only daily Democratic paper of Western Pennsylvania the day following his nomination. It said:

"The nomination of the Hon. Henry W. Williams as a candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court is a good one. He was the best man named before the Republican Convention, and possesses legal and moral qualifications for the responsible position to which he has been nominated. Both parties have now presented their candidates. An important duty has been faithfully discharged by the respective conventions. The campaign may now be conducted without personal asperations, and decided upon the principles of the two great parties. This is as it should be. It is an auspicious sign of the times, and if the county conventions are equally fortunate in the selection of legislative candidates, there will be a stop put to the deplorable corruption at the seat of government under a new reign of honest men and conscientious legislators.—Pittsburgh Post, June 28th, 1867.

The Post, in referring to the above, on the 29th of August, was pleased to say

"We have nothing to take back or modify. Of Judge Williams' private or legal reputation we have nothing but words of praise, and he can only send some pugnacious and lowly politicians, we cannot bring ourselves to view personal assaults as either wise or politic."

THE COTTON CROP of the present year, now harvesting, is estimated at 2,250,000 bales. The Sea Island variety, owing to various causes, will amount to an almost insignificant fraction of this amount, thus materially diminishing the aggregate value.

A feeling of despondency is said to prevail among the planters. This feeling arises not from any doubt as to the ultimate efficiency of the negro as a free laborer, but rather from the contemplation of the gigantic strides which East Indian cotton has made of late years towards the mastery of the markets of the world. The planters say that the result of a competition between the American grower and the East India producer cannot, in the long run, be otherwise than disastrous to the former. They are dismayed by the comparison of the cost of labor at the present time with that in the past. Formerly, the maintenance of a slave cost from $50 to $100 per annum. Now, the services of the same laborer cannot be had for less than four or five-fold that amount. The wages of an efficient field-hand (exclusive of his support) are now, at a moderate estimate, $10 to $12 a month, or its equivalent in a share of the product. This is about five times greater than the wages paid by the East India cultivator, at a gold valuation.

THE Richmond Whig is becoming sensible. It states that a volume of immigration from the Northern States is now enriching Virginia, and adds:

"If we treat the new settlers kindly, and if we secure restoration and tranquility by going through reconstruction process without delay or disturbance, we may at once begin to reap the benefits of an immense emigration, with all the capital, skill, enterprise, and development that will accompany it. If we pursue an opposite policy we must linger on indefinitely in poverty, weakness and stagnation."

That is truth so obvious that all men would see it if they did not allow passion and prejudice to close their eyes. Let the southern people accept the congressional plan, and the Union will be fully restored, with all the States represented in the two Houses, before the close of the next session of Congress.

BIRDS kept in cages are apt to be troubled by parasites. When they droop this is often the cause; and the disturbers may be discovered clinging to the perches and roof of the cage, like red rust. Take the bird out, roll a piece of paper like a large lamplighter, dip the end in alcohol, light it and pass the blaze close along under every part of the cage, twisting and turning it, that no part may escape the trial by fire. If all are burned the remedy is complete; but bird should be duly watched, and if a new coat of rust appears, give the cage another house warming. If caged birds could have access to a pan of dust or sand it would add much to their health and comfort. A hen rolls herself in dust to rid herself of parasites.

IN THE good old times in Prussia, a girl who owned a little property—a hut or a fishing boat—was thereby legally authorized to pick out a husband for herself. If she wished to commence her Frijagd (hunt for a husband) she would hang up her blue apron in front of the door of her house, and post herself behind it. The young men of the village would then pass by the blue apron, one by one in a long procession, and dressed up in their best Sunday clothes. As soon as the right one appeared, the girl would rush out, throw her arms around his neck, and within three weeks there was a wedding.

WOODEN hams and nutmegs are old-fashioned, and a genius has invented a wooden watch. He carried one of them into a jeweler's store in Nassau, (Mass.,) asked to see some gold watches, selected one valued at $150, bade the clerk put it up, and after the package was handed to him he laid it on the counter to step out a moment. An hour after the clerk opened the package and found the wooden watch instead of the one he had sold. The adroit manufacturer, by some sleight of hand, had made the exchange.

THE Providence (R. I.) Journal is engaged in a controversy with the Trustees of Brown University, who, it is charged, are making it a Baptist College, whereas it was endowed and supported originally by four sects, who claim equal rights in its management.

THE President's Policy has warmed the rebels into life to such an extent in West Virginia as to call for military suppression. That is the tendency of his Policy everywhere.

IT is highly probable that the reports concerning the Maryland militia are impregnated with gas, and of a bad quality.

THE next National Republican Convention will be held at Chicago. The time is not announced, if determined.

SEMMES, of the Alabama, has resigned his post as editor, after sowing the seeds of discord with an unsparing hand.

THE receipts of wheat at the lake ports now amount to about 300,000 bushels daily.

FOREIGN NEWS BY STEAMER.

The Jamaica Controversy—Deep Regret over the Announcement of the Death of Sir Frederick Bruce—The Manchester Riot—Convocation of the French Chambers—Count Bismarck's Circular to Diplomats.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The steamer Scotia brings English papers of the 21st.

The Governor Eyre controversy appears to be entirely on a new phase.

An American officer, Capt. Edenborough, has made affidavit that Gordon had entered into negotiations with him for the purchase of an armed ship and munitions of war.

The death of Sir Frederick Bruce was received with feelings of deep regret in England, and the papers all contain warm eulogies to his memory.

It is positively announced that the French Chambers will be convoked for the middle of November, to vote on the Mexican and military contingent for 1868, and also one relating to the organization of the army. The new bill respecting the Habeas Corpus is believed, will likewise be passed at this session.

A report is prevalent that the Spanish squadron of Admiral Nunez was to be reinforced this winter and the bombardment of Callao undertaken.

The papers contain details of the Manchester riot, but no additional facts of interest.

The following is Count Bismarck's Circular to the diplomatic agents of Prussia:

Berlin, Sept. 7, 1867.—The recently communicated to you the declarations which have been sent to us by the Imperial Austrian Government, and by the French Imperial Government, upon the significance and character of the interview at Salzburg, and which we could not but receive with satisfaction. It was to us a matter of regret, would be difficult to persuade public opinion than an event like the interview of two powerful monarchs, and the important situation of European politics, had no serious meaning and could have no important result. The rumors circulated, with a certain affectation and an appearance of authenticity, relative to resqutions of a political kind, which had been proposed or agreed to at Salzburg, were not calculated to dissipate the uncertainty as to the object of the interview. It is, therefore, with the greater satisfaction that we have found in the Austrian and French statements the assurance that the visit of the Emperor Napoleon was due to a sentiment which we honor, and in which we participate, and that the interview of the two sovereigns retained the character of its origin. According to these explanations the internal affairs of Germany were not the object of the conversation at Salzburg, in the manner in which the first rumors led us to suppose. This fact is particularly fortunate seeing that the publication which these rumors met with in all Germany, moved once more how insupportable to the German nation is the uncertain idea of seeing the development of the affairs of the German nation put under the tutilage of a foreign government, and by other considerations than those which the national interests of Germany demand. From the beginning we have kept ourselves the task of directing the current of the national development of Germany into a bed where it can pursue its course without hope of fruitful influence. We have avoided all that could precipitate the national movement, and have sought to appease and not to excite. These efforts have, we hope will be crowned with success, if foreign powers will avoid with equal care everything which can lead the nation people to believe that it is the subject of foreign combinations, which would legitimately excite its sentiments of dignity and its love of independence. We receive, then, with much satisfaction, in the interest and the peaceful development of our internal affairs, the formal denial of all projects of intervention in the internal affairs of Germany. The governments of South Germany themselves bear witness for us that we have restained from all attempts to exercise a moral pressure over their decisions, and that we have even unreservedly abandoned, by the treaty of the 8th of July, the lever which in the situation of the Zoiverein offers in that respect. We shall not depart from this attitude in the future. The North German Confederation will eagerly co-operate to satisfy the requirements which the Southern Governments may experience in the endeavor to extend and consolidate the national relations between the south and the North of Germany, but we shall invariably leave to the free decision of our Southern German allies the task of determining the limits which this mutual approach should respect. We have further motives for persisting with calmness in this attitude, in that we see in the relations existing by the terms of treaties between the North and South of Germany, as the results and the creations of alliance which we have concluded, and of the reform of the Zoiverein, a sure basis in law and in fact for the independent development of the national interests of the German people.

VERMONT.

Trial for Arson at Binghampton.

BINGHAMPTON, Oct. 2.—The trial of Dr. Thomas J. Gardner and Dr. J. Edward Turner, charged with arson, in setting fire to the State Inseprisate Asylum, in 1864, commenced to-day.

WASHINGTON.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, October 2, 1867.

MORE RETRENCHMENT.

General Grant has issued another retrenchment order, in which the price of the commuted ration, which has, for several years, been one dollar, is reduces to fifty cents. The commutation for quarters, which was formerly eighteen dollars per month, is now reduced to nine dollars. This stroke of economy reduced the pay and allowance of detached soldiers on duty in Washington to twenty-four dollars per month.

THE MILITARY AND YELLOW FEVER.

The following memorandum was to-day issued from the Adjutant General's office. "To avoid the risk of yellow fever, officers now absent from their commands, which are serving in the 5th Military District, are authorized to remain absent until further notice from this office."

NEW ORLEANS.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

Yellow Fever Intermittent—The School Board Difficulty—Returns of the Election.

NEW ORLEANS, October 2.—The yellow fever intermits for the twenty-four hours ending this morning were fifty-four.

In the case of the old and new school boards, Judge Duphantier has decided that the new board has no jurisdiction, as no vacancy existed. The new board was not qualified and are forbidden to perform the trian by Governments and by the French Imperial Government, upon the significance and character of the interview at Salzburg, and which we could not but receive with satisfaction. It was to us a matter of regret, would be difficult to persuade public opinion than an event like the interview of two powerful monarchs, and the important situation of European politics, had no serious meaning and could have no important result. PENDING WAR CLAIMS.

NEW YORK, October 2.—The Post's special says General Grant positively refuses to have anything to do with the unsettled claims now before the War Department, which were pending when he came into the Department.

GRANT AND THE PRESIDENCY.

General Grant, in a conversation a few days since with two Republican Congressmen, in replying to direct questions as to the Presidency, said that if it should seem to be the will of Providence, and the desire of the American people, that he should be President, he would not feel at liberty to resist the one nor disappoint the other.

IDAHO GOVERNOR.

The President has made a decision in the case of Gen. Gibbs, who was nominated in July for Governor of Idaho Territory, but not confirmed by the Senate. It is said there was already an incumbent of the office, in the person of a Mr. Ballard.

After referring the case to the Attorney General and receiving his decision, the President has decided not to remove him and appoint Gibbs.

SANDWICH ISLANDS.

The Reciprocity Treaty—Hostility of the Legislature to Pass It—Latest Dates to the 4th of August.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, October 2.—Honolulu dates to September 12th have been received. The Legislature had been convened for September 24, to consider the reciprocity Treaty with the United States. It cannot be ascertained whether such action has been taken, as the printed advices bring only to August 31st.

The government native journal opposes the treaty. It says the natives and foreign residents of the Islands are unwilling and unprepared that Universal Annexation sentiments of the Government to attain the malicious designs of the traitors, and advises the Legislature to lay the treaty on the table. The anti-annexation feeling was published with the full consent and approval of the Ministers, and the Government is said to be unanimously with it. After stating that the foreign papers say the Americans are only waiting for the ratification of the treaty, before they appropriate to themselves the Hawaiian kingdom, it says though such statements be false, yet it is to be regretted that the most covetous desire on the part of the Americans themselves, that the little Kingdom be reunited to them. The writer says the chiefs and representatives of the people in the Legislature may think they are justified to consider and pass for the general benefit, but when it appears that the interest is only for the benefit of a few foreigners, but regardless of the general welfare, and the desire for the death of His Majesty, kamehameha, who is so greatly beloved and who has the hearts of all the Hawaiians, there is good reason to believe they will look upon the treaty with distrust, and refuse to support it. The general feeling is said to be very strong in favor of the treaty. The King had returned from Niuaka and appeared in good health.

ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, October 2.—Two races took place on the Lindell Course to-day. The first race was mile heats, free for all, purse three hundred dollars, in which Craig and Consolentess, T. P. Harding, Dick Johnson, and E. A. Smith's Neil Gwynn were competitors, Gwynn won the race in two straight heats, in 1:48 and 1:46.

The second event was for Southern Hotel sweepstakes for all ages, mile heats, entrance in this race Patriecian, Maggie Hall, Ida Walker, Sandy Barnes, Nattie, Phoenix Belle, Ben Hill, Kate Kearney, Ella Allen, Barbra, Delmorad, Benedict, and Rebecca Conditt. Two were entered, and Jim Walker, Nattie, Conditt and Ben Hill were withdrawn. The first heat was won by Plantagenet, by six lengths; Nattie second, Walker third, Conditt fourth; time 1:48¾. The second heat was won by Plantagenet; Nattie second, Walker third, Conditt withdrawn. Time, 1:47¾. Nattie pushed the winner closely the last heat.

Indiana Congressman Addresses a Meeting of Blacks—Nominations for Convention—Burned in Effigy.

RICHMOND, October 2.—Congressman Shanks, of Indiana, addressed an assemblage of blacks this evening. He said he spoke as one of the party who had the power, when he said the Southern states would have been in the Union long ago if they had given Mr. Stanton and other friends of the President, and in such other infamities as were the legitimate fruits of the leadership of the Radical Congress which was designated to nominate the State Senator.

Resolved, That in passing this rebuke, we deem it forgiving to all the unfortunate of these wrongs, until all the irregularities of that Convention, especially those growing out of the unlawful action of Gen. Canby's Commission; but that we deem it inexpedient to disturb the only ticket now in the field opposed to the Radical party, and to the party's own making, any further than to recommend a candidate for the State Senate in each Democratic voters, and also to those who favor the restoration of the States under the Constitution.

Resolved, That we refer to see the Government administered by white citizens," have confidence, and can consistently support.

Resolved, That we steadfastly adhere to the principles of civil government as established by the founders of the Union, and in opposition with constitutional laws, we oppose a wife, upright and fearless judiciary the great bulwark of public liberty and individual rights.

Resolved, That we do not concur in the opinion "That the supreme Court should be packed so as to take from it its independence, and that any party which would announce such a principle, or any candidate who would support it, on such a platform, deserves rebuke and defeat.

Resolved, That we have every confidence in the legal ability, experience, integrity, firmness and capacity of Hon. Geo. Sharswood, candidate for Supreme Court of this State, and that we recommend him to the hearty support of all who desire the administration of the laws upon the basis of the Constitution, with the preservation of the right of all, whether in the majority or minority.

Resolved, That we tender to Andrew Johnson and the Spartan band of Democrats and Conservatives in Congress who resisted the usurpations of the Radicals upon the Presidential prerogatives and rights guaranteed to the citizens, and who defied them in the Hamilton arrangements and threats of impeachment and other outrages, our thanks and our support.

Resolved, (in the language of Charles Sumner) that a government founded on military power, or having its origin in military orders, cannot be a Republican form of government, according to the true principles of the Constitution, and that its recognition will be contrary, not only to the Constitution, but also to that essential principle of our Government, which, in the language of Jefferson, establishes the supremacy of the civil over the military power.

Resolved, That the suspension of Edwin M. Stanton was demanded, and is endorsed by all lovers of political purity and detesters of spy, and that in this and the unanimous approval of the military commanders and statesmen, the President of the United States has taken the first step to re-establish the supremacy of the civil over the military authority," and is justified by the unanimous concurrence of those who love national unity and respect individual rights.

Resolved, (in the language of the Gazette,) That the action of the President in asking Congress for the power to remit penalties and forfeitures. He gets it from the Constitution whenever Congress gains its authority. We steadily discountenance sweeping and long continued proscriptions of representative government, and that all men of sense are agreed that Universal Amnesty must be proclaimed sooner or later." Hence in approve of the late amnesty proclamation of the President, which embraces a large class of once rebellious but now penitent citizens, to resume a status whereby they can by a future pile of meritorious obliterate and atone for the errors and sins of the past.

Resolved, That unanimity in the Executive councils of the nation is essential to the restoration of the Union, and to the overthrow of Radical supremacy, and that we trust that the harmonizing of the subordinates, with the views of the executive head, and with the wishes of a majority of the people will be accomplished at the earliest time possible and practicable.

Resolved, That it should be the policy of Congress to have but one kind of currency, alike for the soldier who risked his life in the service of his country, the mechanic and laborer, the farmer and the money lender; that interest should be stopped upon bonds deposited for the circulation of the banks and such other securities adopted as will ensure the speedy redemption of the National Loan in the same currency in which it was contracted.

CONSOLIDATION.

Much has been said of the Municipal debt of Philadelphia, as furnishing an argument against Consolidation here. The North American of the 1st instant, makes some explanations to which it will be well to give heed. In the first place it remarks:

"Prior to consolidation the city debt was $11,258,321 79. But when consolidation took place it was found that the old corporations had subscribed for stock to the amount of $1,725,000 without having paid for it, and the bill had to be footed by the new city, so that the total debt chargeable to the old city was $13,-083,321. Of the loans subsequently contracted there were for the unavoidable expenses of the city during the civil war, for bounties, relief of the families of soldiers, etc., $11,695,000, which added to the previous total would make $24,788,-321. Further, let us observe that loans to the amount of $2,403,000 were caused by the extension of the Gas Works, and chargeable to that account. The interest on those loans and all other gas loans is paid out of the receipts of the gas department, and is, therefore, no burden to the tax payers. This brings the total up to $27,171,321."

It then goes on to say:

"The actual debt of the city is $36,-734,905; so that we have to account for a difference of $9,563,584 between this aggregate and the last total mentioned. Of this amount $4,354,800 is charged to the account of permanent improvements, because it was all so expended, and was expressly appropriated for that purpose. These improvements consist of new bridges, like that over the Schuylkill at Chestnut street, and over Mill Creek at Walnut street, the extension of the Water Works, the water mains laid all over the city, the new Courthouse, etc. But the remaining $5,340,784, though charged to municipal purposes, was really also for purposes of improvement, being caused by the enormous extension of the city in all directions, the demand for the grading, paving, lighting and draining of new districts, etc."

It then proceeds to detail what the corporation has to show for its indebtedness, thus:

"Against this total debt of $36,734,-905, the city holds in the hands of the Sinking Fund Commission its own loans to the amount of $2,939,700 67, and $317,395 09 in cash in the same fund, making a total of $4,156,095 76. It also holds stocks, etc., the market value of which is $6,632,240. There must also be deducted $11,957,500 of water, gas, railroad and other bonds that are duly provided for, and not a burden upon the city, so that the aggregate deducted is $21,763,795 76. For the remainder we can point to our school houses, police stations, the new ice boat, parks, squares, markets, wharves, improved highways, etc."

This property would sell for sufficient to pay the debt of the city now unprovided for. It is computed that during the last two years two hundred thousand inhabitants have been added to Philadelphia, and at least four hundred thousand since Consolidation was accomplished. Here is a population double the amount of that which resides within the limits which it is now proposed here to unite under one corporation. This vast increase of population has been provided for in respect to streets, water, gas, drainage, police, bridges, school houses, and all the other appliances which help make up the peculiar comforts of modern civilization. Philadelphia grows because she takes measures to invite accessions by retaining her pre-eminence as the most desirable of all the large cities on this continent for residence. Her people of moderate incomes, or of no incomes at all but such as are derived from daily labor, are better domiciled and at less cost, than corresponding classes elsewhere on the face of the earth. This is one of the reasons why she can undersell Pittsburgh in many of the productions for which our people are famous. What she has wisely expended in one direction inures greatly to her advantage in all others. She has been providently lavish because she has been compelled to maintain a direct and powerful competition with New York. This liberality in making provision for new comers has achieved its proper end, and the future of the city is assured.

The citizens of Pittsburgh and our other districts are slow in learning this lesson; but they must learn it or be content, not, indeed, to fall away absolutely, but to see competing cities rapidly outstrip this in the race of improvement, population and wealth.

AN ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

The Post has either been seized by a fit of candor, or has, unintentionally, revealed a party secret, or practiced another of those dodges by which its party, tries to catch the unwary, when, in its issue yesterday morning, it acknowledged that "to vote for Judge SHARSWOOD is to declare for the Government as it was established by the Fathers, and to vote down all revolutionary measures and men."

Before appealing to arms, to destroy the Union, the South counted on the aid and sympathy of the Northern Democracy, and counted not in vain. The party used all its machinery to obstruct the war for putting down the rebellion; and when President LINCOLN had learned, by sad disasters which decimated thousands of homes, that the Rebellion could not be put down until its cause, Slavery, had been destroyed, his great caution led him to wait, that even Democrats might be convinced of the necessity of Emancipation. He waited in vain; for while it was so plain that the wayfaring man, though a fool, could not doubt the impossibility of preserving both Slavery and the Union, the Democracy still raised a hue and cry against Emancipation when it became the last resort. When the wisdom and necessity of this measure and that of arming negroes, had forced itself upon the convictions of the loyal masses, the dodging Democracy feigned acquiescence and even adopted and petted the measures as though they had originated them. Who more ready to accept the situation—to rejoice in the overthrow of slavery than the dodging democracy? In their mad opposition to the measure they had predicted that the freed slaves would rush north, inundate our cities with dark faces, drive our workmen from their trenches, marry all the white women, who were supposed to be waiting for these curly headed heroes, and leave democratic editors to die bachelors, with many other frightful results.

Well, Emancipation came, when, lo, and behold, these colored scarecrows clung to their old homes, calling for work and wages there, and all the efforts of emigration societies failed to induce half so many of them to come north as were called for by northern employers. None of the predicted evils came to pass, and the democracy ignored their predictions until one of their number, placed in power by the Republicans, set himself, with all the appliances of the Government, to verify their prophecies. By impeding that policy which conquered the rebellion, won the acclaims even of its enemies, the democracy have created so much disturbance that they begin to narrow their resolve to reinstating the institution they so persistently elevated above all rights of the white laboring masses, and at the overthrow of which they profess to rejoice. To re-establish the Government as "established by the Fathers," is the central purpose. All the lessons of the past—all the terrible sufferings and sacrifices of the war, are to be accounted as nothing. We are to roll back the wheels of Time a century, begin where the Fathers began, re-erect the Government on the foundation stone of slavery, and bequeath to our children not only evil already contracted, but the certainty of a second rebellion, and its onerous burdens. Those who are in favor of this openly avowed policy are to vote for Judge SHARSWOOD. There can be no reasonable doubt that such is the object of the democratic party. The last plank of its platform is:

"15. That the war was undertaken to put down all opposition to the Constitution of the United States—to restore and maintain such a Union as was inherited from wise and virtuous statesmen, who never recognized negro equality, and never thought of including negroes when they said that all men are created equal."

We would not ask one man to vote against his convictions. If a majority of this people are willing to bequeath to their children the assurance of another Slavery rebellion rather than acknowledge the equal right of every man to his own labor, his own wife, his own children, to defend his own home and provide for it, to educate his children, worship his God, and to take part in making the laws which govern him; then, in the name of justice, let them vote for Democracy, and so bring up the issue at once. If, as we believe, a Democratic triumph now would induce Mr. JOHNSON to a forcible resistance of Congress, it would precipitate the issue. Freedom and Slavery would again measure swords, and we should know to whom this country belongs. It is cowardly to leave the penalty of our injustice to our children. If you prefer the subjugation of the negro to equality before the law, vote for Judge SHARSWOOD, as the Post advises, in evidence of that preference, and, in compliance with its threats, fight for your idea. Let us have the question settled in this generation, and leave the country to the undisputed possession of one of the contending powers.

STATE NEWS.

—Reading complains of sneak thieves and too many strangers.

—The fourth span of the new bridge at Harrisburg is nearly ready for roofing and weather boarding.

—The Odd Fellows of Uniontown, Dauphin county, dedicated their new hall on Saturday, 28th ult.

—The new court-house at Meadville is to be built after a modified plan of the Brooklyn City Hall—a very handsome public structure, and will cost from $175,000 to $200,000.

—A soft coal bed has been discovered at Spring Creek, a few miles from Corry. It crops out with a thickness of about three feet. A company is being formed to work it.

—The West Reading rolling mill resumed work October 1st. The engine got out of order about a month ago, since which time the proprietors have been repairing the same.

—On Sunday night of last week four prisoners in jail at Williamsport attempted to escape by breaking the wall, but were checked by a plucky display of a revolver by James Buck, the jailor.

—A train of cars were, on Saturday of last week, precipitated from the track near Ashland, Schuylkill county, falling from a height of sixty feet, killing a young man by the name of Matthew Thornton.

—The Erie Observer says a project is on foot for the establishment of another daily in that city, to be independent in politics. The stock is to be taken by Republicans and Democrats, and as nearly ly equally divided as possible.

—By a collision on the Northern Central Railway, near Millport, north of Elmira, which took place on Wednesday of last week, two men lost their lives and a large number were wounded. It was an excursion train, bound to the Masonic picnic, at Havana. The killed were A. E. Tammany, of Lock Haven, and Franklin True, of Elmira. None were injured except those standing on the platform.

—The boiler connected with the jack and shingle mill owned by Sweet & Howard, at Williamsport, exploded on the 16th ult., injuring four men, two fatally. The persons killed were Timothy Curtin and James Pickering. The latter was thrown a distance of eighty feet. The destruction was appalling. The building was leveled with the earth, and the machinery thrown in all directions. A portion of the boiler, fully one-half, was thrown a distance of fifty feet from its original position.

—The Erie Dispatch says: A little boy, the son of a Mr. Hanley, living on Seventh street, near Myrtle, was fearfully crushed on Thursday evening, by being run over by a wagon loaded with wood. The little fellow had climbed into it, unknown to the driver, and either fell off or was getting down just as the driver backed his horses to go to another place. The hind wheel backed over the boy's breast, crushing it terribly. At the last accounts we heard from the little fellow, there were but small hopes of his recovery.

—Colonel McFarland has located the Soldiers' Orphans' School at Mercer, the citizens having purchased a fine unoccupied building for that purpose. The school will be opened in November. The parents or guardians of such children as are entitled to the benefit of soldiers' orphans' schools are urged to report immediately, either by letter or in person, to Prof. J. G. White, Mercer, Pa., that he may have certificates of admission issued for them that they may be admitted to the school at its opening.

—A remarkable hen was killed by Mrs. Whitaker, of Reading, on Saturday. On opening the hen seven large eggs were found, six of which measured about eight inches in diameter and about six inches in circumference, varying not more than a half inch from the given measure. The seventh egg was considerably larger, and on being opened disclosed two distinct eggs with but a thick skin for covering, and measured no less than nine inches in diameter. The hen was in quite a healthy condition when killed.

—The Altoona, (Blair county) Tribune says: "On Friday morning last, William, son of John Hunter, of Bell's Mills, came to his death rather singularly. He had taken a position on the steps of one of the cars of the mail train, while stopping at the station, intending to jump off at the road crossing, a short distance above. This he did but in doing so he fell, and is supposed to have been hurt severely inwardly or about the head. Shortly after he fell he got up and walked back to the house, and told his mother that he felt sick. She requested him to lie down, but he said he could not, as his head hurt him. Dr. Clark was called in, but could not save him. During the night he began to stertorously, and could not be revived. He died about three o'clock on Saturday morning."

Both General Prim and General Garibaldi, in their late attempts, relied greatly upon the sympathy and assistance of the military element in their schemes. Prim, as a popular Spanish soldier, expected to carry a great part of the army with him, and he made preparation for revolt in a large number of the regiments. Garibaldi, in like style, imagined that the Italian army would refuse to take sides against him in his march upon Rome, and it seems from his recent speeches at Geneva and elsewhere that he even thought he would be joined by the Papal army itself after he had unfurled his banner within the Pope's territory. Both Prim and Garibaldi have been grievously disappointed in these expectations of help from the military element, and we think the fact is evidence that the heart of Spain and Italy were not on their side in the attempts that have been frustrated.

—The Dubuque Times says: "We have here an unexplored mining field nearly seventy miles square, which has been merely scratched on the surface at a few points, and over $40,000,000 value of lead has been raised. The wonder is that our lead region does not attract greater attention from the mining adventurer."

—The coal product of Great Britain and Ireland during 1866 was 101,630,544 tons, of which nearly one-half was mined in the counties of Durham, Northumberland, Yorkshire and Lancashire, England.

RAILROAD ITEMS.

—The road, known as the Evansville, Henderson and Nashville Railroad, passes through the Kentucky coal beds. Of all places in Tennessee it will benefit Nashville most, being, in fact, an extension of the Edgefield and Kentucky road, and so bringing the coal very near that city, making, by northern connections, the most direct route to Chicago. The coal will be accessible to Memphis, either by rail, via State Line, or by river, via Henderson, making the distance by rail transportation 350 miles, and by river 42 miles by rail to Henderson, and 322 miles less by water than from Pittsburgh, whence Memphis now receives by far the largest supply of coal, avoiding, it should be remembered, the risk of the falls of the Ohio at Louisville. The road is graded near to the coal fields from Henderson on the north and State Line on the south. The distance not graded on the south is from Hopkinsville only eight miles. A large number of laborers are now being employed. Work has recommenced. Much of the required material has been procured, and it is expected a considerable portion of the road will be in running order before the close of the year.—Memphis Post.

—The Oil City Petrolian says: The Allegheny Valley Railroad Company will put a locomotive and cars on this end of their road early next week. The line is finished between this point and Franklin, and the work is progressing favorably along the whole line. It is expected that cars will run over the full length of the road during the month of November.

—The contract for the building of the Memphis and St. Louis Railroad has been given out to competent parties in St. Louis, who agree to take the bonds of the road in payment for their work. It is understood that they will commence immediately.

—Peter Cooper, William Cullen Bryant and others are making arrangements to hold a public meeting in New York at an early date. The subject of an air line railroad from St. Louis to the Atlantic States is to be considered.

—Five lines of railway from the east are to make Omaha their terminus, and four others will tap the Pacific Railroad within 150 miles of that point.

—The Central Pacific Railroad Company in California is roofing the most exposed portions of the route.

A DANGEROUS SEASON.

An almost unparalleled quantity of rain has fallen during the summer. Vegetation has been wonderfully thick and rank, and, as it decays, an unusual amount of sickness may be expected unless proper means are taken to prevent it.

Fever and ague and bilious remittents already prevail to an alarming extent, and as the Fall advances and the malarious night fogs become heavier, the sick list is likely to increase both in the city and the country. It is, therefore, only an act of common prudence to keep the vital forces in full vigor, so that they may resist the unhealthy influences of the season. Re-inforced by the tonic operation of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the system, however weak and susceptible, naturally will, in nine cases out of ten, successfully combat every species of atmospheric poison by which epidemics are produced.

During the months of September, October and November, the difference in temperature between day and night is very great, and the chilling dews and mists of the season are the prolific causes of intermittent, remittent, bilious, dumb ague, and dysentery. Bearing this in mind, remember, also, that the BITTERS not only fortify the stomach and brace the nerves, but act specifically upon the bowels and the liver, imparting to those important organs regularity and tone. It is not reasonable to expect immunity from prevalent complaints if no precautions are taken to escape them.

HOSTETTER'S BITTERS are at once pleasant to the taste, and the most certain of all safeguards against febrile ailments.

BLIND EYES RESTORED.

The case to which we alluded some weeks ago, of Christiana Fisher, of Beaver county, is now entirely confirmed by the appearance of Miss Fisher herself, who to-day called on DR. KEYSER in person, to thank him for his genius and skill in restoring her TO ENTIRE AND PERFECT SIGHT. Miss Fisher had been nearly blind for four months. She was so blind that she could not distinguish any object so as to make out what it was. The case is remarkable, as hundreds of cases like hers are doomed to never-ending darkness, on the plea they pretend that there is no cure, and nothing can be done. She was under DOCTOR KEYSER'S treatment for two months, and before she applied to him through her brother, Simon P. Fisher, slight hopes were entertained of her ever getting her sight. Her case is well known in the neighborhood where she resides, and has been regarded as one of extraordinary recovery.

We, the undersigned, know of the cure of Miss Fisher, and bear willing testimony to the facts above stated.

MANUFACTURED BY THE

PITTSBURGH BRICK MACHINE AND BRICK MANUFACTURING CO.

This Machine takes the clay direct from the bank, (without the preparation, by soaking, necessary for "soft mud" Machines,) and tempers it thoroughly, pressing in steel moulds, brick stiff enough to put right into the yard as made. For cutting with the wire, bearing hard usage, and making a strong, true wall, there are no better brick known. The cost of making them by this machine is from 95 cents to $1.10 per 1,000, according to the rates of wages. This we guarantee. The machine is built entirely of iron and steel; and in the best style for strength and permanency, and is now running daily. Apply for circulars, giving full information, at the office,

THE COURTS.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Sterrett.

This Court met Wednesday morning, at ten o'clock. The following cases were disposed of:

ASSAULT AND BATTERY CASES.

Commonwealth vs. Annie Brown; assault and battery. Verdict, not guilty. Peter Strahan, prosecutor, to pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. Mary Schenck; assault and battery. Verdict, not guilty. Peter Strahan, prosecutor, to pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. Peter Strahan; assault and battery. Verdict, not guilty. Mary Schenck, prosecutrix, to pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. Peter Strahan; assault and battery; Verdict, not guilty. Annie Brown, prosecutrix, to pay the costs.

The above cases were tried by one jury.

Commonwealth vs. John Oliver; assault and battery; John McMillan, prosecutor. Verdict guilty.

Commonwealth vs. John McMillan; assault and battery; John Oliver, prosecutor. Verdict guilty.

RESCUE AND ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

John McCoy, indicted for rescuing a prisoner from the custody of officer Thomas Wilson Noble, put in a plea of guilty. Sentence deferred.

CONVICTED OF ASSAULT.

Richard Adams was tried for an assault and battery on Martin Connor. The jury convicted him of assault and the Court sentenced him to pay a fine of five dollars and costs.

FELONIOUS ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

John Wilson was placed on trial on an indictment for feloniously stabbing officer Cotton, of the Mayor's police, on the night of the 12th of August last, the prosecutor, in passing along his beat in the Ninth ward, discovered three men, the prisoner among them, sitting on Liberty street. He accosted them, asking what they were doing, or if they belonged in the locality. They made a reply, and the officer passed on, but he had gone but a short distance when opprobrious epithets were uttered by the men. Mr. Cotton then gave the alarm, or called assistance, and endeavored to arrest the defendant, who, in resisting stabbed the officer in the side, inflicting a severe wound. The knife with which it was inflicted was found shortly after in a pond at a point where the defendant was observed to throw something from him. For the defense it was contended that the defendant was unwarrantably abused by the policemen in their attempt to arrest him. Jury out.

Alderman Ordered to Pay Costs

The Grand Jury in the Quarter Sessions, yesterday, in an assault and battery case wherein Ellen McMullin was prosecutrix and John Cahill defendant, returned the bill ignored, the endorsement upon the indictment reading: "ignoramus, and we find Alderman Lynch, Esq., to be the prosecutor in this case, and direct that he pay the costs." Knowing Edward Lynch, Esq., to be one of the Aldermen who dispense justice in the Third ward, "the only Democratic district in the city," we were curious to know how such action by the Grand Jury was brought about. The information in the case, sworn to before Alderman Lynch on the 26th of August, reads: "That the defendant did then and there rudely take hold of deponent in the office of E. Lynch, and did in an angry and rude manner shove or push her, to the danger of deponent's life, she at the same time being standing at or near the door from the steps of stairs above the pavement." Perhaps, (we dont know,) the grand inquest regarded the Alderman as the real prosecutor, as the transaction occurred under his eye, and the case being a most trifling one, too many of which of a like character are sent to Court, it was deemed fit, for a purpose which will be well understood, to make the Alderman appear on the record as prosecutor, and require him to pay the costs. In so doing he will, of course, take credit for the costs which otherwise would have accrued to him.

Bills Found.

Among the bills returned by the Grand Jury, yesterday, as true, were two for gambling, against Robert McCutcheon and Irwin Redpath, and James McKee and Samuel Shore; also one against Alex. M. Hyatt for administering stupefying mixtures with criminal intent upon Kate Waldron; and one against Barbara Brawdy for keeping a bawdy house.

Common Pleas—Judge Mellon.

The Shaw divorce case occupied the attention of the Common Pleas Court during yesterday, and was not concluded at adjournment. The evidence in the case, however, has closed.

Annual Report of the Committee of Curators of the University at Lewisburg, for the year closing July 25, 1867.

But a little over two decades have passed by since the project of a first class literary institution was laid before the Baptists of Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Amid much surrounding doubt, a few enthusiastic men laid the foundation of a grand scholastic enterprise. Humble in its beginning, it took no more commanding shape than a High School, without a building, and with a capital consciously disproportioned to the ideal of its projectors. Time has vindicated the wisdom of the movement, and given to the denomination and the State an institution that is at once an honor and a blessing.

The University at Lewisburg, in its Theological, Classical, Academic, and Female Institute Departments, now stands in such position as worthily to claim the confidence and co-operation of all friends of sound and thorough learning. All the Professors and Teachers have given proof of their qualifications for the posts they occupy. The President, Rev. J. R. Loomis, L. L. D., combines, in an eminent degree, the accomplishments of the scholar with the skill of a judicious executive. The chairs of instruction are all filled with men tried in their different departments, and who are leaving their impress for good on the students who pass under their moulding hand. The Academy, under regulations that largely secure the comfort and protection of home, proves the success of its management in the classes which, year by year, it prepares for the College. The Female Institute, under a Principal who happily unites the Bible with the text book, and idealizes faithfully with the spiritual necessities of her pupils as she does with their mental wants, maintains the prosperous position which for years it has held. From its halls have gone out scores of young ladies who reflect credit on the Alma Mater, and many a room in its beautiful building has been the birth place of souls.

But one change has occurred in the Board of Trustees and none in the Board of Curators since the last report. Joseph Meixell, Esq., who was one of the Founders and Patrons and faithful friends of the University, and a member of the Board of Trustees from its organization, died in March last. President J. R. Loomis, L. L. D., was elected to fill the vacancy.

During the past year there has been in attendance, in all the Departments, about three hundred students. Seven were graduated from the Theological Department, seventeen from the College, and nine from the Female Institute.

Improvements are now being made in the buildings and adjacent grounds which will considerably add to the beauty of the property and the comfort of the pupils.

The report of the General Agent and Treasurer shows that notwithstanding liberal expenditures for repairing and furnishing, the income for the past year is in excess of the disbursements. This gratifying exhibit places the institution beyond the probability of financial embarrassment, and demonstrates its ability to be self-sustaining.

The corporation is entirely free from debt, and in possession of property valued at nearly $250,000.

In an institution so comprehensive as our University, there is room for many additional funds for the more efficient prosecution of a thorough educational work. Prominent among things desirable, in the judgment of the Committee, is the establishment of a contingent fund, the interest of which may be expended in enlarging the Library, replenishing the Apparatus, and increasing the Cabinet.

The donors and patrons of past years may look with pride on the present prosperous condition of the University at Lewisburg. At times she has struggled through difficulties which seemed to bring an end to her existence into jeopardy, and has won for herself a position in which her continued prosperity is assured. Her Alumni ably occupy places of prominence and usefulness in the various departments of active life. Her influence is perceptibly permeating the region in which she is located, and her sons and daughters perpetuate her good offices even in distant States. Her success has removed the necessity of sending our youth beyond our own borders for an education. She invites, and, with reason, claims the confidence and patronage of our people. She is deserving of our warmest sympathies, and worthy to be the educator of our children.

J. A. KELLY,
JOHN GUNDY, } Committee.

Republican Meeting at New Texas.

A very large and spirited Republican meeting was held at New Texas, Plum township, on Wednesday evening, over which Esquire Robinson presided. Able addresses were delivered by W. C. Moreland, John H. Kerr and R. A. Cameron, Esqs., and considerable enthusiasm was manifested. After Mr. Cameron had concluded, Mr. Moreland was again called for, and the audience persisted in their calls until that gentleman again took the floor. His second effort was a very fine one, and was listened to with the closest attention. The speakers, all of whom were from the city, met with a most cordial reception at the hands of those residing in the neighborhood, and were hospitably entertained. The meeting, as a whole, was a most interesting one, and adjourned at a late hour.

Runaway.

An exciting and amusing scene, to those not particularly interested, occurred in the Diamond market yesterday morning, which resulted in nothing more serious than a general demolishing of butchers' stands along Market street. A horse, harnessed, but not "hitched up," was left standing by a wagon near the market, which becoming frightened, dashed up the alley to Market street, where he came in contact with a horse attached to a market wagon. This animal at once joined in the runaway, and together the two ran down Market street dashing down stands, fruit and butchers' stalls, and spilling more fruit and vegetables on the street than can ever be picked up again. In length the career of the runaways was checked before any person had been injured, but how everybody escaped is a mystery.

Accident in a Coal Mine.

An accident occurred at the coal works of Mr. Haberman, at Six Mile Ferry, on the Monongohela river, on Wednesday afternoon, resulting in the serious injury of Louis Cuel, a coal miner employed at the works. It appears that while the man was at work in a stooping position, a mass of "horseback" or slate fell upon him. The lower part of his spine and his left thigh bone were fractured, and his face and chest very severely bruised. Dr. A. G. Walter, of the city, attended his injuries, which are considered of a very dangerous nature.

Fires During September.—In the city, during the month of September, there were six alarms of fire. One hundred and one strikes were struck on the big bell giving blows were struck on the big bell giving alarms, and two hundred and forty in alarms, and two hundred and forty in striking the hours. The largest fire of the month was the burning of Gaiway's malt house on last Sunday morning.

GENTLEMEN—We ship you, to-day, by railroad, a safe of your make, for a few repairs. The safe we sent through the disastrous fire that occurred here on the 6th of March last, burning our store and warehouse, and we are glad to inform you that the papers taken out of the safe after the fire were not harmed in the least. We did not suppose any safe, especially so small a size, could possibly stand such a fire, and when we discovered the papers all safe and sound, we were agreeably disappointed. We will give you an order for a large size safe when we get into our new store. Yours truly,

Gold, under an increased demand, advanced to 144, and closed strong at that bid for any amount.

There is a large short interest outstanding, not only from speculators but also from merchants who wished to await a decline to near 140 before covering their contracts. Government bonds are lower, and 6-20s of 1862 have declined ¼ per cent; 7-30s ½ per cent, but 1865's advanced slightly, as also 10-40s. The investment demand for bonds is very light, but there is a probability of a rally, since National banks are enabled to keep part of their reserve funds in New York exchange, which will cause an accumulation of funds there, and make call loans cheaper and give a stimulous to speculation.

The stock market is strong and has advanced through the entire list of the old Railroads. Miscellaneous shares are dull and lower. Mining shares are steady.

—Our count in Frankford, in writing to the Department of State, says that a leading financier of that city remarks rather strikingly that the unceasing demand for American securities is easily explained by the circumstance that the United States are making an advantageous exception from all the States of reduced currency, for while the latter are obliged to cover deficiencies by the contraction of new loans under more and more onerous conditions and are thereby more and more embarrassing their finances, the United States are successfully working for a reduction of their public debt, and in consolidation of the same, by paying off their obligations as short maturity.

—Reports are in circulation at Boston of trouble with one or two of the Providence banks, and also in regard to a Newburyport cotton mill. Further information states that the banks are old State institutions, of small capital, and that one of them has been for some time in course of liquidation. The mill failure was also of little consequence, the company having been suspended for some months. The failure of a New York rubber company was also reported at Boston.

—Since the 25th of February, 1862, the treasury has shipped off to gold, from its customs revenue, $60,000 000 United States notes, issued as the equivalent of gold, and receivable for customs in August, 1861, and January, 1862; also $7,888 000 of the hundred dels of 1861, which fell due when gold was worth 131 per cent. in December, 1864; also $3,481,000 Texas indemnity stock of 1850, which fell due in July, 1865, when gold was worth 140 per cent; also $3,469,000 of the funded six per cent. stocks of 1867-8, which fell due this year and in June, 1868. And from the proceeds of the sales from time to time of the surplus of gold in excess of these requisitions the Secretary of the Treasury reduced the principal of the public debt 39,114,303 during the fiscal year ending the 30th June, 1867, and further reduced the principal from the same and other surplus means $179,214,954 during the fiscal year ending 30th June, 1867. If to all this it should still be said that he has thus failed to make the fundamental test, we have only to reply that until the maximum of the funded debt is reached, and the whole of the 7-30 per cents. converted, the effect of buying up, in the last two years, say $12,300,000 in 1865-6, and $16,500,000 in 1866-7, equal to one per cent. of the principal of the then outstanding gold bearing debt, for a sinking fund enough to have given practically no enlargement by leaving outstanding a larger sum of the currency debt to be ultimately funded.—Philada. Press, Oct. 1.

—Currency was in active demand to-day, and the market was closer than at any time within a week. The interior dealers were checking to a liberal extent, and the commission merchants were eager applicants for all that could be had to be sent to the country for the purchase of grain. Some small remittances were received from St. Louis, and several large parcels of coin are expected from New York to-morrow. Some institutions reported liberal offerings of time grain paper, but such items were with little favor. Our banks are anxious to forward the grain to the seaboard as fast as possible between now and the close of navigation, and to hasten it, will, no doubt, in extreme cases, accept a few time bills on cargoes, but it must not be expected that this can be done to any extent. We have not banking capital enough to work at both ends of the route. The amount of currency daily required throughout the interior in the purchase of this grain, is immense, and, judging from the receipts, it is difficult to predict when the return flow of currency will take place.—Chicago Tribune.

—Business in all departments was exceedingly dull yesterday, with a steady demand for money, the rate ruling firm at 7 per cent. on Governments. Money does not seem so very scarce, but holders are loth to let it go beyond immediate recall, which seems to argue some undefined trouble that may make its use on call important. Commercial paper continues unchanged. Some few names pass at 7 per cent., but the general rate is 7½ to 8¼ per cent. We are looking anxiously for a revival from this general distrust, and already some imagine they see signs of a more hopeful future.—Phila. Ledger, Oct. 1.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
WEDNESDAY, October 2, 1867. }

CRUDE—The market was more active today, the sales, in the aggregate, being larger than on Tuesday, but there is still room for improvement. Prices, however, have undergone no quotable change, and we continue to quote at 13 to 13¼c for spot oil; 12 to 12½c for first water; 12 to 12½c for fall 1867, seller's option, and 13 to 13½c for same delivery, buyer's option. Sales in two or lots of four thousand barrels, to be delivered on first water, at 12½c, and one thousand barrels, on spot, at 13½c. For future delivery, there seems to be more sellers than buyers, and while the market is apparently a little weak, prices are unchanged. We have no advices from Oil City to-day.

REFINED—The market was exceedingly quiet to-day, not a single sale reported, and and the advices from the east were unfavorable. It would appear that the props have been knocked out from under the Philadelphia market, a sale of 5000 barrels of spot oil having been made there to-day against nearly double that amount yesterday, at 37c. This looks bad for the "bull" movement, but it may only be temporary, and it is possible may yet recover the ground they have apparently lost. It is thought, however, that the stock of oil in Philadelphia is entirely too large to admit of a "corner," as it is reported in trustworthy circles that all the warehouses there are full and overflowing. The whole thing will doubtless be developed in a few days, and the issue will be awaited with great interest by all interested in the trade.

—Since the above was put in type, we have been permitted to make the following extract from a letter written by a prominent and reliable Philadelphia refiner, now in Philadelphia, under date of Tuesday afternoon: "Two lots was disposed of to-day of 5000 bbls each at 37c, all October, buyer's option. There was a considerable amount disposed of at 36@36½c. There is a pretty large stock of oil on hand. If the screwing party succeed prices will go much higher, but if they fail, we may look out for a decline in prices. It is believed that the bull party will succeed. They have bought all the oil offered, and are calling on the buyer's options to-day for October.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
WEDNESDAY, October 2, 1867. }

Trade in general merchandise continues rather dull and unsatisfactory, with but little prospect at present of any immediate improvement. The drought appears to be exerting considerable influence on farmers and country merchants, causing the former to hold back their products, and restricting very much the operations of the latter, and the impression seems to be gaining ground, that higher prices, especially for Flour and Grain, are near at hand.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet but steady at former quotations. We continue to quote at 14¼@16c for shoulders; 17@18c for Ribbed and Clear Sides; 22c for Plain Sugar Cured Hams, and 23c for Canvassed do. Lard cannot fairly be quoted above 14c, and Mess Pork is firm at $25.

GRAIN—Wheat is firm, scarce and tending upward; sale of 1 car prime Westmoreland Comity Red at $2.38. Oats excited and scarce but unchanged; sale of 2 cars at 46c, 100 bushels at 47c, and small sales in store at 48@50c. Barley is still quoted at $1.25@1.30 for good to choice Spring. Rye is in demand, and sells readily at $1.35@1.35. Corn is quiet and unchanged at $1.20@1.20.

FLOUR—Is firm, and prices are again tending upward. We now quote at $10.25@10.75 for Spring Wheat; $11.25@11.75 for Winter Wheat; and $13@14 for fancy brands. Rye Flour unchanged at $8.

SEEDS—Sale of 170 sacks of Flaxseed at $2.50. Timothy Seed is in good supply and very dull—round lots are offering at $2.50, without finding buyers. Cloverseed is nominal at $8.10@9.

BUTTER—There is a steady demand for prime Roll Butter, and with a limited supply, the latter may be quoted firm at 35c. Common packed in good supply and very dull.

EGGS—Quiet and unchanged at 20@21 for fresh packed.

CHEESE—Is firm and tending upward; we now quote at 14@15c, the latter figure for Goshen.

APPLES—Are getting a little dull, under the influence of large arrivals, and lower prices will doubtless soon have to be accepted. We continue to quote however, at $2@4 per bbl, as to quality.

POTATOES—There is a steady demand for prime New Jersey Sweets at $1.50@3 per barrel.

SALT—Is dull, but without quotable change. Allegheny river brands are still quoted at $2.25, on track, and $2.35, delivered.

HAY—Is coming in pretty freely, but there is a fair demand, and the market may be quoted steady, with regular sales at $15@20, according to quality.

OIL—Lard Oil is firm but unchanged at 90c for No. 8, and $1.10 for No. 1.

New York Produce Market.

CREDIT MOBILIER.

The Commercial Advertiser says: Among some of the foreign bankers there is some apprehension that embarrassments may occur in the continental money markets from the critical condition of the Credit Mobilier of Paris. The latest mail advices represent it was doubtful whether the 5 per cent bilier would effect the proposed loan with the Bank of France, owing to the indisposition of the directors to give their own personal security, as they had in the first instance proposed. It is considered impossible that the institution should stand without the support from the bank of France asked for, and in the event of its failure the financial disaster, not only in Paris, but in Italy and Germany, must be very severe.

STOCKS.

Stocks opened unsettled and advanced partially fractional advance was subsequently lost, and the market closed steady.
